

VENCO Power Calculator

With our VENCO Power Calculator you can calculate the average expected output of our windturbine at your personal location.

If your browser is capable to display Java Applets, you can right away start with inserting the monthly average windspeed at your location. To calculate the estimated power, just click at the "calculate" button.